About the Office of the Vice President of Finance:

Join the MIT Office of the Vice President for Finance (VPF) and be part of a team dedicated to managing the Institute's financial resources to support education, research, and innovation. At VPF, we prioritize excellence, integrity, and inclusiveness in our work and office culture.

VPF achieves goals through teamwork and collaboration, and we celebrate those successes together. Our team comprises professionals with diverse backgrounds and skill sets who share a passion for financial and administrative excellence.

VPF offers flexible work schedules with both remote and in-office work. A VPF staff member will spend 2-8 days per month in the office, depending on the position and specific team schedules. Our primary location in Technology Square is convenient to amenities, including coffee shops, lunch spots, and events on MIT’s main campus. Commuter resources, including free MBTA passes and commuter rail discounts, are available to all employees.

MIT’s comprehensive benefits package demonstrates a commitment to our employees' well-being. Our benefits include health and dental insurance, a 401(k) plan with employer match, an additional pension plan with 100% of contributions managed and paid for by MIT, paid vacations and holidays, and more.

Position Overview

The Senior Administrative Assistant reports to the Controller and the Director of Insurance. They are fully engaged with the work of both directorates and proactively initiate and organize systems and procedures to provide advanced, complex, and comprehensive administrative support and financial duties. They demonstrate exceptional attention to detail and use discretion and independent judgment in considering a course of action for all matters affecting the Controller and the Director of Insurance. They recognize matters of significance and look to appropriate parties for guidance when needed. This role requires a comprehensive and in-depth understanding of department goals, policies, and practices and the broader MIT organization and mission. The Senior Administrative Assistant serves as a member of the VPF cross-functional administrative assistant team.

Principle Duties and Responsibilities

- Manages appointment scheduling for the Controller and Director of Insurance, and as needed, for the Controller’s and the Director’s direct reports. Coordinates arrangements for multiple meetings based on the awareness of and sensitivity to the range of issues and topics related to the Controllership and Director of Insurance.
Processes financial transactions including requisitions, journal vouchers, travel expense reports, requests for payment, invoices, and Procurement Card approvals.

Maintains automotive database in collaboration with insurance brokers, MIT Department of Facilities, the VPF Property Office, and departments, labs, and centers (DLCs).

Provides administrative support, as requested, to members of the Controllership and the Director of Insurance and to other VPF teams.

Researches and writes memos, letters, and reports—which are often complex in nature—on behalf of the Controller and the Director of Insurance. Uses independent judgment to gather and analyze new information and incorporates it into multiple existing and new reports and documents.

Assists DLCs to procure and process automobile registrations.

Handles confidential matters with discretion.

Leads, organizes, and oversees all agreement requests from appropriate parties, tracking the status of agreements, documenting agreement requests, responding to inquiries, and following up on outstanding agreements. May carry and hand-deliver documents to offices across campus for review and signature.

Assists to prepare, edit, and format PowerPoint presentations, contracts, and other internal and external documents.

Creates appropriate file systems to meet the evolving needs of the Controller and the Director of Insurance. Keeps Controller and Insurance office and materials organized; prepares files for easy access; is responsible for data retrieval and analysis; organizes and presents background materials for daily schedule.

Proactively initiates actions to address Controllership and Office of Insurance needs. Prioritizes own work; anticipates consequences of actions, potential problems, or opportunities for change.

Serves as an extension of the Controller and Director of Insurance, communicating on their behalf when directed.

Assists with creating, updating, and maintaining Controllership and Insurance communications and communications lists, presentations, compliance and reporting dashboards, organizational structure lists and charts, and staff contact lists.

Uses knowledge, experience, and available resources to find solutions to address and resolve complex problems. Recommends and implements process improvements where needed.

Functions as a high-level individual contributor of multiple projects; creates and maintains procedures for own work area.

Effectively uses multiple software programs, particularly MS Word, Excel, Outlook, and PowerPoint to accomplish work responsibilities.

Plans, coordinates, and carries out special events or projects within the Controllership and Department of Insurance and as needed to support VPF.

Assists in gathering information for the yearly insurance liability renewal, and completion of other insurance-related applications.

Assists in issuing visa insurance documentation.

Assists in tracking vendor contracts.

Receives, scans, and uploads certificates of insurance into the insurance database; issues outgoing certificates upon request.

Serves on VPF’s administrative team and regularly helps cover the reception desk.

Performs other related duties as necessary and may require occasional overtime based on unexpected needs or project deadlines.

Qualifications

Required

- High school diploma or equivalent
Minimum of five years of administrative, office, or related experience
Ability to function autonomously and direct own work. Is a proactive individual who is able to recognize, anticipate, and meet the administrative needs of the Controller and Director of Insurance
Is sensitive to organizational dynamics; requires an in-depth understanding of purpose and operations across VPF and MIT.
Has strong written and oral communication skills including grammar and proofreading ability; excellent interpersonal skills for interacting and collaborating with a diverse group of colleagues at all levels of the Institute.
Accuracy, unflappability, and an eye for detail are essential, as is the ability to solve problems and scheduling conflicts and work independently and across functions. Handles data, charts, and reports with precision.
Ability to collaborate with others across VPF to implement new initiatives and resolve issues.
Understands the nature of handling confidential material, and does so with discretion, tact, and good judgment.
Proven ability to use advanced features of MS Office, including PowerPoint. Ability to identify and quickly learn new applications as necessary.
